Prez visit over, food stalls reclaim Lalitha Mahal stretch

Roads near Lalitha Mahal Grounds were fully cleared of street vendors ahead of President's visit to city on Sept. 1. Picture right shows food vendors back in business at the stretch.

Mysuru, Sept. 5 (MTY, DM & BCT)- The more than 50 fast food joints recently cleared by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) along the roads near Lalitha Mahal Grounds are back in business, much to the frustration of residents, walkers and the skating community. The eateries had been removed ahead of President Droupadi Murmu's visit, based on directives from the President's security team.

MCC officials had cleared food stalls along the stretch from Lalitha Mahal Arch to Kempegowda Statue Circle, including those on National Highway 766 (Old 212). Pushcarts, petty shops and stationary food vending vehicles were all cleared during the drive.

For a brief period, residents were relieved to have smooth pedestrian and vehicular movement. For months, they had been battling with the unchecked mushrooming of stalls that encroached upon footpaths and every open space around the Grounds. However, barely days later, vendors returned with their carts yesterday evening, setting up shop at the very same spots.

2018 dust storm scare

IAF to ensure dust-free Dasara Air Show

Mysuru, Sept. 5 (BCT)- In response to a complaint raised by a Mysuru resident over dust-related chaos during the Indian Air Force (IAF) Dasara Air Show rehearsal on Oct. 13, 2018, the Air Headquarters has assured that all future displays will be conducted in a more controlled environment, with close coordination from civic authorities.

The complaint was lodged by Sampath Kumar, a resident of Nandini Layout, T. Narasipur Main Road, with the Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances — Nodal Agency on the very day of the incident, that is on Oct. 13, 2018.

On that day, over 6,000 spectators had gathered at the Torchlight Parade Grounds to witness the much-anticipated

Air Show rehearsal. However, their excitement quickly turned into disappointment as a massive cloud of dust engulfed the venue, completely obstructing visibility and forcing the crowd to scatter in panic.

LESSONS FROM A LIVING GARDEN: "As I work in the garden, the garden works on me." I recently read this quote and realised that tending to plants and just watching them grow has been an integral part of my life. I probably picked up this habit from my maternal aunt and uncle who lived next door during my formative years. It has been my long-cherished wish to stay in a house surrounded by mother nature and destiny made this possible when my husband got transferred to a place which had a housing community atop a picturesque hillock. Fortunately, we were allotted a ground floor house with a verdant garden facing our drawing room. Though it was a corner house with a huge wall separating the adjacent sector, our garden was the cynosure of all eyes.

A massive jackfruit tree provided enough yield for the entire neighbourhood, while the breeze from the neem tree purified the air and its fallen leaves acted as a natural repellent for pests. At the far end of our compound, Custard apple and guava trees made their presence felt by adorning themselves with fruits, almost throughout the year. These giving trees adapted to the vagaries of nature quite efficiently. Be it torrential rains or scorching heat, it was remarkable to see them robustly rooted to terra firma, in a way gently schooling us to stay strong despite life's ups and downs!

Soon, our stay in this house came to an end as the building was scheduled for special repairs. When we were allotted a house in the adjacent compound, I fervently prayed for a house with a green patch. The power of prayer was experienced in full glory when we moved into this new house with a sprawling garden and fruit trees and floras encasing it. Blessing the hands that tended to this fertile plot, I happily immersed myself in this green lap of luxury.

Now, gardening has become a meditative process that teaches me the fine art of patience, mindfulness and appreciation for small things in life. "Unknowingly we smile just looking at this flowering plants and trees full of fruits," my house help Vijaya commented one day. Her profound statement has stuck with me filling my heart with delight and gratitude. This quote by David Hobson aptly sums my state of mind, "I grow plants for many reasons: to please my soul, to challenge the elements or to challenge my patience, for novelty, or for nostalgia, but mostly for the joy in seeing them grow." —Rohini S. Murthy in Deccan Herald

Student's lost wallet found after 51 years!

Ontario: Workers doing renovations at an Ontario High School made a surprising discovery behind a bathroom wall — a wallet lost by a 17-year-old student 51 years earlier.

Construction workers were tearing down a bathroom at the facility Aug. 26 when they found a wallet concealed behind the wall.

The wallet contained items belonging to Tom Schopf, who was a 17-year-old student at the school in 1974. The contents included student IDs, a driver's license, a social insurance card, photos of family and friends, a Eurail transit pass, price lists from a Canadian distillery and a 35-cent ticket to a hockey game.

Lorna MacQueen, caretaker at Stoney Creek's Orchard Park Secondary School and her team were able to contact the now-67-year-old Schopf on Facebook, who visited the school and discovered it was indeed the wallet that he had forgotten ever losing.

Trio makes cornhole shot from 151 ft.

Idaho: A team of three men used a slingshot to launch a beanbag 151 feet at an Idaho football field to break the Guinness World Record for the longest cornhole shot with a slingshot.

Joel Strasser, Luke Lorick and Garrett Smith said it took them multiple attempts at the Meridian Waters football field at Meridian High School before their beanbag landed neatly in the hole of the cornhole target.

Strasser has multiple Guinness World Records titles to his name, mostly involving putting objects into his beard. He and Smith previously teamed up with fellow serial record-breaker David Rush to break the record for the most chopsticks put in a beard in one minute by a team of two, managing 104.

The cornhole shot marked Lorick's first-ever Guinness World Records title.

Students seek appointment of Guest Lecturers

Mysuru, Sept. 5 (MK&DM)- Urging the authorities to end the confusions over academic curriculum of degree students and the appointment of Guest Lecturers, students of Kuvempunagar Government First Grade College, under the banner of AIDSO, staged a demonstration in front of the college yesterday.

Addressing the students, AIDSO District Council member Hemalatha said that Guest Lecturers have not yet been appointed even though over a month has passed after the commencement of degree classes across the State.

Pointing out that internal assessment is going on after completion of lessons in private colleges, Hemalatha alleged that the Government is playing with the future of poor students.

"It is mostly the children of poor farmers and labourers who get admitted to Government Colleges for getting education. Now, these students are facing a lot of inconvenience as they have to attend the College only for a single class, travelling in buses daily from their far off residences. The Government should take immediate measures for addressing the issues faced by Government College students by appointing Guest Lecturers and conduct of all classes daily as per schedule," she urged.

AIDSO office-bearer Abhishek and the College students took part in the demonstration.

Poor status of Kukkarahalli Lake

Sir,

I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the deteriorating conditions at Kukkarahalli Lake, a valuable green space in our community.

While the Lake offers a beautiful natural setting, its current state makes it increasingly difficult, and at times unsafe, for residents to enjoy, especially seniors and families.

The walking path around the Lake is in urgent need of maintenance.

Soil erosion has exposed sharp stones, creating a hazardous surface that is challenging to navigate and poses a real risk of falls or injury.

For our elderly residents, this is particularly problematic, making a simple walk around the Lake a treacherous endeavour.

Furthermore, the restroom facilities are in an unacceptable state. Their poor condition is not only unpleasant but also unhygienic, deterring many from spending extended periods at the Lake.

Finally, the lack of proper lighting along the paths raises serious safety concerns, especially during early mornings or late evenings. This makes the Lake unsafe for walkers after dusk, limiting its accessibility and utility for many.

Kukkarahalli Lake has the potential to be a cherished recreational spot for all. I urge the local authorities to take immediate action to address these issues.

Investing in the repair of the walking paths, improving restroom facilities and installing adequate lighting will not only enhance the safety and comfort of visitors but also demonstrate a commitment to maintaining our public spaces for the benefit of the entire community.

A total lunar eclipse, also called a 'Copper Moon', takes place when the Earth comes directly between the Sun and the Moon, causing Earth's shadow to fall on the Moon.

During totality, the Moon turns a deep red, a result of sunlight bending through Earth's atmosphere, the same reason behind red sunrises and sunsets. Unlike Solar eclipses, lunar eclipses are completely safe to view with the naked eye. Binoculars or telescopes can enhance the experience.

Dr. K. Jayanth, Assistant Professor, Department of Civil Engineering, NIE and Dr. Mayura Tapkire, Associate Professor, Department of CSE said, "This event provides a good opportunity for students to witness a celestial phenomenon first-hand, inspiring curiosity in astronomy while making science engaging and memorable."

Minister Somanna vows to scrap all level crossings

175 railway level crossings identified; tenders invited for constructing overpasses and underpasses at 75 locations

Union Minister of State for Railways V. Somanna addressing a press conference at the Government Guest House in Nazarbad yesterday as MLA T.S. Srivatsa, former MP Prathap Simha, City BJP President and former MLA L. Nagendra and others look on.

Mysuru, Sept. 5 (BLU&BCT)- Union Minister of State for Railways V. Somanna has announced that all Railway level crossings within 100-kilometre radius of cities, including Mysuru, will be systematically removed and replaced with overpasses or underpasses to enhance safety and ensure smoother transit.

Addressing a press conference at the Government Guest House in city yesterday, Somanna revealed that out of 175 railway level crossings identified, tenders have been invited for constructing overpasses and underpasses at 75 locations.

He assured that during the current three-year term of the Government, all remaining level crossings will be eliminated and upgraded with modern infrastructure.

Responding to increasing demand for additional Vande Bharat trains connecting Mysuru with other cities, Somanna said a new plan is being drawn up to reduce passenger congestion between Bengaluru, Mysuru and Tumakuru. "Details of this initiative will be announced soon," he added.

After his engagements in Mysuru, Somanna visited Srikanteshwaraswamy Temple in Nanjangud and offered prayers.

The Minister also assured that steps will be taken to revive the long-delayed railway underpass project in Mysuru. After consultations with officials and local stakeholders, he said a dedicated meeting would be convened to kick-start the construction process.

On the recent reduction in GST rates for several goods, Somanna dismissed the Opposition's allegations that the move was politically motivated ahead of the Bihar elections. He clarified that the revisions were part of a broader reform initiative, announced in line with the Dasara festival and to mark Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 12 years in office.

"Elections come and go, but policies must serve the people," Somanna said, adding that the Union Government is committed to public welfare and strengthening the economy. He praised Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman for her tireless efforts to improve the country's financial health.

Responding to Congress' claims that the GST revisions would harm State revenues, Somanna termed the allegations baseless and asserted that no State has been targeted."

The press meet was attended by Krishnaraja MLA T.S. Srivatsa, former MP Prathap Simha, City BJP President and former MLA L. Nagendra and District BJP President Subbanna.

At Nanjangud

Somanna announced that the proposed Railway overpass near Bhargavi Cinema on Rashtrapathi Road in Nanjangud will be built as per the original alignment, without any deviation.

The project is scheduled to begin within two months and is expected to be completed and operational by 2026. Somanna inspected the proposed stretch, walking from the Agrahara area to Bhargavi Cinema to gather public feedback before addressing the media at the Tourist Guest House.

"I've listened to the concerns of residents regarding the overpass alignment," Somanna said. "Rather than diverting the route as previously suggested, the overpass will follow the original plan — starting from the fourth turn on Rashtrapathi Road and ending in front of the Brahmin Association Office."

He added that this decision meets a long-standing demand of Nanjangud residents.

Somanna also addressed complaints about the problematic railway underpass on Mahatma Gandhi Road, which has caused serious inconvenience due to water-logging. He assured that a team of officials would be sent soon to carry out repairs and implement measures to prevent water accumulation. If repairs are not feasible, he said, a permanent solution will be considered.

Free Museum entry

Legislative Council Member K. Vivekananda urged Minister Somanna to grant free entry to school children at the Railway Museum during the upcoming Dasara festivities.

Vivekananda pointed out that a similar initiative was implemented last year, allowing students to explore the Museum without charge.

He appealed for the arrangement to be continued this year as well, emphasising that such an opportunity would spark curiosity and interest in the Railway sector among young learners while enhancing their knowledge and awareness.

'Brief Booker Prize winner on Dasara's spiritual essence'

Mysuru, Sept. 5 (BLU&BCT)- Union Minister of State for Railways V. Somanna has urged that International Booker Prize-winning author Banu Mushtaq, who has been chosen to inaugurate this year's Mysuru Dasara festivities, be briefed on the festival's historical and spiritual significance before the event.

Addressing a press conference at the Government Guest House in Mysuru, Somanna stressed that Dasara is far more than a cultural celebration — it is a symbol of faith, devotion and heritage, deeply rooted in the worship of Goddess Chamundeshwari.

"Anyone inaugurating Dasara must understand the religious essence of Chamundi Hill," Somanna said. He suggested that the Government should ensure Mushtaq is familiarised with the Temple's traditions, rituals and legacy, along with the cultural context of Dasara, before she formally launches the celebrations.

Clarifying his position, Somanna stated, "I am not here to decide whether Banu Mushtaq is qualified to inaugurate the event. My only concern is that the chosen person respects and upholds our traditions."

He added that he was unsure whether the Government's decision was made to please any particular group but warned against a casual approach to such matters. "This should not be treated as a 'take it for granted' situation," he remarked.

Somanna expressed hope that the Government and the inaugurator would honour the sacred customs and spiritual practices associated with Chamundi Hill.

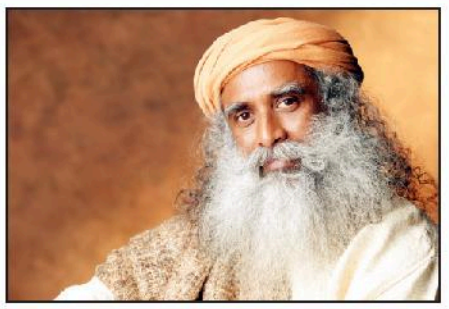
MYSTIC'S MUSINGS



By Sadhguru - Founder, Isha Foundation

Begging - A tool for growth

Begging in India was a part of the spiritual tradition. One aspect of this was, you did not select your food, you begged and ate whatever people gave you. It was considered a great privilege when a person on the spiritual path stood in front of your house and asked for food, and for you to offer food to him.

Today, these traditions have been misused and there are so many people wearing the uniform of a spiritual seeker, who are just plain beggars in search of money and food. But when people begged consciously, it had a completely different meaning and possibility.

When someone stretches his hand in front of you, if you feel it is being misused, you can refuse and move along. If you feel that it is really coming out of genuine need, you must respond as a human being.

Just think how difficult it would be for you to stretch your hand in front of someone on the street. That man is putting himself through that. A beggar may be doing so out of helplessness but a sanyasi is doing it consciously for his own growth so that he does not get too full of himself. A beggar does not have such great goals. He is just trying to fill his belly, which he is incapable of doing by himself.

You need to understand, disability is not just in terms of losing a hand or a leg. You can become disabled just in the way you think and feel about life. Actually, almost the whole population is mentally and emotionally handicapped because of their patterns of thinking and feeling towards life. Similarly, the beggar has gotten himself into a corner, and he thinks begging is the easiest way to earn a living.

> "In our tradition, at least once a year you must go begging for food, so that you do not think too much of yourself. People may give you food or they might just ask you to get out. It does not matter, but being a beggar is not a small thing."

A spiritual person, however, takes to begging because he wants to drop himself. The idea, "I earn my own living, my own money, my own food, my own home," is a big part of your ego. Begging was used as a tool to drop yourself because in earning a living, you gather yourself. But you drop yourself in just stretching your hand in front of someone, knowing and being fully conscious that you have the capability to earn your living, to rule a kingdom, yet you still choose to beg. That is a tremendous shift in a human being.

So in our tradition, at least once a year you must go begging for food, so that you do not think too much of yourself. People may give you food or they might just ask you to get out. It does not matter, but being a beggar is not a small thing.

Dharmasthala defamation conspiracy

Amit Shah assures NIA probe if needed

New Delhi, Sept. 5 (Agencies)- Union Home Minister Amit Shah has assured that, if necessary, the probe into allegations of a conspiracy to defame the Dharmasthala shrine in Karnataka will be handed over to the National Investigation Agency (NIA).

Shah gave this assurance after receiving a memorandum from a delegation of seers representing the Karnataka Sanatan Sant during a meeting held yesterday.

The delegation comprised eight seers, including Shwaasa Guru Sri Vachanananda Swamiji of Harihara Veerashaiva Lingayat Jagadguru Peetha and Sri Rajashekharananda Swamiji of Vajradehi Mutt, Gurupura, Dakshina Kannada district, among others.

The seers briefed Shah on what they described as a deliberate campaign by vested interests to malign Dharmasthala through negative publicity, and strongly urged for an NIA probe into the matter. "We have no objection to the ongoing SIT investigation into the Dharmasthala mass burial case, ordered by the State Government. However, an NIA probe would ensure greater transparency and credibility," the seers emphasised during their discussion with the Home Minister.

A delegation of Seers from Karnataka handing over a memorandum to Union Home Minister Amit Shah in New Delhi yesterday.

The meeting, which lasted for over an hour, also highlighted concerns about the digging of marked points extending up to Bahubali Hill in Dharmasthala. The seers warned that such actions could erode the shrine's spiritual sanctity, deeply upsetting its lakhs of devotees. They further alleged that conspiracy is part of a larger plot targeting Hindu pilgrimage centres, drawing parallels with previous controversies of Sabarimala and Tirupati.

"The ultimate aim is to cast aspersions on Hinduism and discourage devotees from visiting temples," the seers told Shah.

Local Body elections

State Cabinet pushes for ballot papers over EVMs

Bengaluru, Sept. 5- In a major decision, the State Cabinet on Thursday resolved to recommend to the State Election Commission (SEC) that all future local body elections be conducted using ballot papers instead of Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs).

The Cabinet also decided to empower the SEC to independently prepare and revise voter rolls for various local elections, a move aimed at strengthening transparency in the electoral process.

Speaking to reporters after the Cabinet meeting in Bengaluru, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister H.K. Patil said, "We have decided to recommend to the SEC to hold all upcoming polls through ballot papers instead of EVMs. This step comes in response to the growing erosion of public confidence in the credibility of EVMs. The Cabinet has also resolved to introduce the necessary legal measures and amend existing rules to allow the SEC to revise electoral rolls independently."

Patil added that the State Government would also suggest to the SEC the framework for conducting elections under these new provisions. "All changes will be implemented within the next fortnight," he assured.

This decision coincides with the Cabinet's recommendation for a special revision of voter lists ahead of the upcoming elections to Panchayats and the five newly formed City Corporations under the Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA).

Former State Election Commissioner P.N. Srinivasachari, reflecting on the move, recalled that EVMs were first introduced in Mysuru and Bengaluru districts during the 1999 elections. However, he noted that Gram Panchayat elections have continued with ballot papers to this day.

Prez visit over, food stalls reclaim Lalitha Mahal stretch

Health hazards and hygiene issues

Residents allege that these unregulated stalls have turned into a public health menace, with indiscriminate dumping of vegetarian and non-vegetarian food waste, creating foul odours and unhygienic conditions.

While vendors claim they have obtained MCC food vending licences, locals point to the uncleared piles of waste left behind each night. Most vendor vehicles are rusted and unhygienic, with food prepared in unsanitary conditions, posing serious health risks.

"Footpaths and open spaces have been completely taken over," said residents, walkers, and skating enthusiasts, who demand daily MCC checks to safeguard public health and restore the area for public use.

Residents stressed that such clearance drives should not be one-off actions timed to VIP visits. They urged the MCC to maintain constant vigilance to prevent unauthorised food joints from springing up overnight.

IAF to ensure dust-free Dasara Air Show

Confusion, chaos

The chaos was triggered when an IAF helicopter landed on the ground, generating strong air pressure that stirred up loose dust. The situation worsened due to heavy winds, creating swarms of dust that swept through the crowd.

"The scene was one of complete confusion," Sampath Kumar wrote in his complaint. "We, along with thousands of others, including families with young children, had gathered eagerly to witness a spectacular event. Many were seated with snacks, waiting for the show to begin. Suddenly, a huge cloud of dust engulfed the entire area. Dust entered our eyes, covered our bodies and even settled on the food. People could not see one another and began running in all directions in panic. Thankfully, no stampede occurred."

He further criticised the "absolute unpreparedness" of the organisers, pointing out that the issue could have been avoided with basic measures. "The IAF, known for its discipline and operational precision, could have mitigated the situation by issuing a prior announcement or by spraying water on the ground to control the dust," he said.

Risky lapses in planning

In his complaint, Sampath highlighted how minor lapses in planning could lead to major safety risks during public events, especially those involving large crowds.

Following the grievance, the authorities investigated the matter and on March 1, 2019, officially confirmed that Sampath Kumar's concerns were valid. The Air Headquarters found that the dust problem was primarily caused by inadequate ground preparation by local civic bodies.

Taking immediate corrective action, the civil authorities, under the direct supervision of an IAF team, prepared the venue overnight. Thanks to these efforts, the final Air Show, held on Oct. 14, 2018, proceeded smoothly without any disruptions.

Assuring the public, the Air-Headquarters stated that future air displays will be meticulously planned, with proactive measures taken to prevent such incidents. "All future events will be organised in a controlled environment, in close coordination with civil administration, to ensure the safety and comfort of spectators," the statement read.

Air Show 2025

This year, the Dasara Air Show is most likely to be held at the Torchlight Parade Grounds in Bannimantap on Vijayadashami Day (Oct. 2), Chief Minister Siddaramaiah confirmed recently.

The Centre has approved the Air Show as part of the Dasara festivities, with the Ministry of Defence formally giving its nod.

Initially, Siddaramaiah stated that the event could take place on the eve of Vijayadashami, but later, he clarified that the Air Show will be staged on Vijayadashami Day itself, ahead of the grand Dasara procession from Mysore Palace.

Grand procession, immersion of 1,021 Ganesha idols held

Mysuru, Sept. 5 (VVH&VNS)- A grand procession and immersion of 1,021 Ganesha idols, installed at Sri Mahaganapathi Temple as part of Brindavan Ganeshotsava in Brindavan Extension, took place yesterday.

The Brindavan Badavane Nagarika Hitarakshana Vedike had installed the idols for nine days, during which various cultural programmes were organised. Along with the Ganesha idols, which ranged from 1 ft to 6 ft in height, idols of Lord Shiva, Goddess Parvathi and Lord Subramanya were also installed, drawing large crowds of devotees.

For the immersion procession, lorries, goods autorickshaws and a tractor were used, while the largest Ganesha idol was carried in a jeep. Folk artistes performing dollu and chande added vibrancy and energy to the event. The procession culminated near Manti village, where idols were immersed in the Varuna Canal.

Former MP Pratap Simha, Vedike Hon. President P.S. Nataraju, President M. Jeevan Prakash, Vice-Presidents B. Meenakshi and I.K. Jyothi, Gen. Secretary N. Raghavendra, Joint Secretary S. Vivekananda, Organising Secretary M. Allammaprabhu and Treasurer R.V. Kumar were present.

Nagamangala sees peaceful mass Ganesha idol immersion

600-strong Police force led by Mandya SP keeps vigil; Schools, colleges closed as a precautionary measure

Nagamangala, Sept. 5 (VNS)- The grand procession of Ganesha idols, followed by immersion, organised by the Samuhika Ganapathi Samiti, was held peacefully at Nagamangala yesterday. The event began with special puja rituals at the Ganapathi Temple in T.B. Layout, after which prasadam was distributed to devotees.

Ganesha idols installed by various groups, including Badarikoppal Gajapade Yuvakara Balaga, Ganesh Gooli Boys, Pourakarmikara Colony, Karunada Vinayakara Balaga (K. Mallenahalli), Babruvahana Yuvakara Balaga, Sri Ramasene Yuvakara Balaga, Bheemasene Yuvakara Balaga, A.K. Colony, Team Kempegowda Geleyara Balaga (Saremegalakoppal) and Snehajeevi Geleyara Balaga (Upparahalli), were brought to the Temple premises.

The grand procession was flagged off from there, with thousands of devotees from Nagamangala and surrounding villages witnessing the colourful event. The procession passed through the main streets of town, including Mandya Circle and Market Road, before culminating at Arasana Kola, where the immersion ceremony was held.

Tight security arrangements

Given last year's communal violence during the Ganesha procession, Mandya District Police made tight security arrangements to ensure a peaceful event. Around 600 Police personnel were deployed along the procession route.

CCTV cameras were installed at key points for surveillance and a holiday was declared for schools and colleges as a precautionary measure.

Mandya SP Mallikarjun Baladandi, Additional SP C.E. Thimmaiah, Nagamangala DySP B. Chaluvaraju, and CPI K.S. Niranjana personally oversaw the arrangements.

Last year, tensions had flared up during Ganesha procession, leading to clashes and clamping of prohibitory orders.

WORD OF THE DAY

Abeyance

Pronunciation: uh-BAY-unss (noun)
Meaning: Abeyance is a formal word that is almost always used in the phrase "in abeyance" to describe something in a temporary state of inactivity — that is, something in a state of suspension.
Origin: Jaw-dropping suspense is at the etymological heart of abeyance: the word's Anglo-French forbear joined parts meaning "to open wide" and "to have the mouth wide open; gape, pant." Almost always partnered with the word in, abeyance refers to a temporary lull in activity — a state of suspension (and perhaps suspense) before an action continues. If something, such as a plan or contract, is in abeyance, it is temporarily unable to take effect, be enforced, etc. When first borrowed into English in the early 16th century, abeyance referred to a lapse in succession during which there exists no person with a legal right to an estate or title of nobility; think of a property or title in this type of abeyance as being in a state of limbo, waiting for a rightful heir or owner. This meaning comes directly from its Anglo-French ancestor, which took the jaw-dropping suspense implied in the word's parts and applied it to the edge-of-one's-seat feeling when you don't know who the next Earl or Countess will be.
Example: "A restaurant popular with college students ... will temporarily lose its liquor license for more than a week in October after the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission found multiple underage patrons consuming alcohol. ... The actual liquor license suspension issued lasts for 18 days, but only nine of those days must be served, from Oct. 7 to 15, according to the report. The other nine days 'will be held in abeyance for a period of two years provided no further violations' are found ..." — Katelyn Umholtz, Boston.com, 12 Sept. 2024.

THE ODD WORD

Futzing
Ineffective.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

To fall off the wagon

Meaning: This phrase 'To fall off the wagon' is usually said on a recovering alcoholic, which means that someone has returned to drinking alcohol after a passé of abstinence.
Origin: This phrase was first recorded in, Alice Caldwell Rice's Mrs. Wiggs of the Caggage Patch [1901], where the Mr. Dick says it to old Mrs. Wiggs.
Example: "Anna hadn't had a beverage in a decade, but when her husband of eleven years left her, she fell off the wagon again."

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
